AnsaldoBreda moves headquarters to Pittsburg, California.

Pittsburg, CA 1/10/07 – AnsaldoBreda, Inc. is pleased to announce relocation of its corporate headquarters to Pittsburg, California on January 15, 2007. According to Giancarlo Fantappiè, AnsaldoBreda's President, "this move comes as the logical next step after moving our final assembly activities to Pittsburg after the Ansaldo – Breda merger back in 2001. We look forward to increasing jobs in Pittsburg as we bring more work into the region."

AnsaldoBreda has built and overhauled more than 1500 rapid transit cars in the United States since 1978, with 104 Heavy Rail Vehicles for the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (LACMTA) and 151 Light Rail Vehicles for San Francisco's Municipal Railway (MUNI). An additional 50 Light Rail Vehicles are also under contract with LACMTA, the first of which was produced in Pittsburg and delivered this week.

"The state of California will play an important role as we grow our North American business" says Giancarlo, "with increasing ridership and demand for public transportation in San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco."

AnsaldoBreda, Inc. is a leading provider of light and heavy rail transit vehicles with additional contracts in Cleveland, Washington, DC, Atlanta, Boston, Los Angeles and Buffalo. AnsaldoBreda, Inc. is part of Italy's Finmeccanica Group with global headquarters in Pistoia, Italy. More information on AnsaldoBreda in the North America can be found at www.ansaldobredainc.com
